

Jeshua Channelling through Jayem

Croydon Hall – 29th August 2012

Now we begin. And indeed greetings unto you Beloved and Holy children of Light Divine. Indeed greetings unto you precious sisters and precious brothers. Indeed greetings unto you, who have journeyed together ceaselessly through all fields of time, all fields of possibility and now you come together, not to seek but to learn to acknowledge that you have found. Now you come together from the vast reaches of your dreams, of your journey – to look beyond illusion, to rest in the truth that only Love is Real, to awaken from the delusion of fear, from the delusion of separateness – to realize that indeed you are that One sent forth from the Father as a ray of Light, to reveal that God Is. That nothing can withstand the power of Love. That you are born in Light, that you are sustained in Light, that you are the One through whom Light can be extended unto this dimension, unto this world that seems to be so solid, that seems to be spread out around the body.

Yet I say unto you Beloved Friends, the world but arises from within you and it leaves not its source. Therefore, always, what you see is what you have chosen to see. And you have come together in this gathering – particularly in this gathering – to begin to create a vortex, a vibrational field of true commitment, of true devotion to the ending of all illusion. Mark well then these words we would share with you now. It is not by accident that you are here and not somewhere else, nor is it by accident that others are not here. For the call went out a long time ago, well over what you would call a year of your time, already the call was going out for this gathering – even before what you call the last time you gathered. All has been preparation for the possibilities of the healing power of Love to bring the miracle of Grace now.

And we would wish to suggest, that if you have paid some attention, you have indeed noticed that miracles have occurred daily, hourly, by the minute. Yet they occur not because of what we bring to you, for we are not those that are given the power to end your illusion. We are given the Love to join with you, to walk with you, to enter into the deepest spheres of your illusions, only if you invite us. And there to join our power, our love with that which yet lies sleeping, perhaps somewhat dormant beneath the threshold of your awareness, held against, through which you call the vibrational patterns of the appearance of the body, which is consciousness itself. When you invite us and when we join with you, wherever two or more are gathered in the name of Truth, nothing can withstand the healing power of Love. You are then of infinite and equal value to us, you are of infinite and equal value to one another. For you have come together to remember that your brother or your sister is of infinite value, infinite preciousness, and is worthy of your deepest devotion to the Truth and power of Love.

Every miracle then, that has unfolded in this gathering, has been the result of this devotion that you have brought and given to one another. Every miracle has been because not a single soul, in this temple room of yours, has failed to ask for our help. Many of you have felt me and others close to you, whispering to you, stealing into your dreams, sensing us as though we were standing behind you, beside you – it's not your imagination – for we are attracted unto our own. And our own, are those who are coming to the edge of a profound transformation, and awakening into the Truth there is only One, there is only Christ, there is only this perfect Light, there is only God's Reality – to break through the holding back, to break through the heavy weight of illusions outgrown. And you have brought what you would call, this great courage, and though you would see it not through the physical eyes, you have brought great delight to us as we have enfolded you and journeyed with you.

For all that we can ever do, is walk with you on the way that you choose, to abide with you, as intimately and as closely as you will allow us. You are then that One, who has been given all power under heaven and earth, and you have elected to come to this particular gathering, to ignite an opening, not just in yourselves, not just with one another – for you are indeed but ancient family, ancient family indeed – but to ignite what you may wish to think of as a vibrational wave. The image would come here, that you may use, of a nuclear explosion, the energy that ripples out, touches and penetrates and blows the walls down of everything it touches. You have come to begin to anchor that vortex of Christ Mind and really bring it rooted to the Earth, in this particular location of the Earth, which I would prefer to remain calling Summerland if you don't mind.

Welcome then the Truth that you know, do not fool yourself in this moment, there is no one in this room who did not have a sudden knowing that this is where you needed to be. You have heard the call, you have answered the call, and you have come – for a special reason, that is a unique reason. You have answered the call, for the time of quickening is taking it's next, what you may call, quantum leap. It's time indeed to ground, might be your word, to root the absolute deepest commitment, to recognize that Christ dwells behind the eyes of every brother and sister, and to call that forth from within them, simply by seeing it there within them. And by defeating within you, the patterns that would look upon them, as anything less than what God has created them to be.

This has been the true power that has allowed miracles, that have indeed unfolded, to occur. You are the one who has elected time again, while you walk upon the grasses of this earth, when you sup with one another. Have you not within, recognized the moments when you decided all you wanted to see was the Light and the Truth of the soul in the one in front of you, to hold them in that Light and thus to silently invite them to open to it in themselves? Is this not true? Constantly, you have repeated this desire in every little moment. You have reached out to your brothers and sisters and through various words, perhaps asking for what you call the embrace. In truth, underneath the words, at the level of soul communication you have said "I want you to see me as the Christ I am, and hold me so that I can feel it in myself."

Rest assured, that there are many you know who have not been here before, many you know from the periphery of your life and your journey, who are being profoundly impacted by what has been occurring here. For the body, though it appears limited is not limiting, no location in space and time is devoid of profound and intimate communion with all other points of space and time. For there is but one field of creation, one field of Light, one power. Therefore, you have begun to set free your brother and sister who is not even here. You have begun to set free everyone you have known, in what you call your life. You know your life, the thing that seems to be made up of the collection of experiences that involve only bodies in space. This is my mother, this is my sister, that's my what you call the ex-husband or the ex-wife. And you have thought that these relationships were what comprised your life, but they are but the tip of an iceberg.

As you heal and awaken, that which you truly are, as soul, continues to expand - would be a good word for you to use. What's really occurring, is that you are becoming aware of the already present expanse of the soul, in which you can enfold beings on the other side of the planet, as easily as you can embrace the one in front of you. There have been some of you, during these very few short days of yours, that have found yourself engaged in a miraculous moment with another here, yet suddenly sensed or felt that there were other human beings and other dimensions of beings, participating in the energy being exchanged between the two of you. Is this not true? It is not your imagination, it is that you are awakening to the true expanse of the soul, where communion and communication is unbroken throughout all of creation. Therefore, you can embrace your brother or sister here in space and time, using the arms of the body for a good use – rather than folding them across the chest to say “No you can’t come in” – open them wide and bring them in, you call it an embrace. But in that very moment, you can also relax your inner being to enfold and invite all beings into your embrace.

The time of a profound quickening is at hand. You have, what you call, activated a leap of that frequency, that allows the quickening to descend into the human, what you call the collective consciousness or unconsciousness as it were. You have done that, you have answered our call, you have joined with us, you have journeyed the body to plop it in a place of space and time and devote it to the only thing that matters. You have indeed forgotten the world, you have indeed forgotten the self that you have always thought was part of the world and you have stepped boldly into the Self that embraces all worlds. And as you have chosen that, that Light has descended – again this is a spatial metaphor – for understanding from the perspective of space time and body. The Self, that you share as One, has been increasingly descending into what appear to be separate bodies.

And many of you, have had very clear enlightenment moments of no longer knowing where you end and your brother or sister begins, not just as Light but back through time – is this not true? That in these days, you have felt the vast ancientness of your Oneness and found no place where it began. The roots of that Oneness begin in God, yet in God there is no beginning nor end, only the eternality of what is True always. You have then elected, to allow yourself the direct experience of what is always True. For you have looked upon your brother or sister and have found your Self looking back at you. (Hmm) Those of you that have thought about it afterwards, have shaken your heads a bit and wondered if you have imagined it – remind yourself, no this is not true. This is not my imagination. I have tasted and experienced in this moment, precise precision of the Truth, my brother or my sister is my Self, and as I love them I love myself, as I love myself I love them. As I love the Self we are as One with a passionate, the most passionate Love and devotion, you set all Beings free.

From this day and from this hour, there is not one among you who will not more acutely feel that you have house guests in the air around you. For to each and everyone here, we say unto you, because you have demonstrated your devotion to the Atonement, to the true awakening, because you have all been willing to allow yourselves to be carried beyond the edges of what you thought you could never be carried beyond – because you have done this, we rush to meet you. This then could be said, this gathering could be looked at, as an invitation and a test – to use your word – an invitation to step beyond the edges you thought you could only fear and keep away. And that you have done this, calls us ever deeper to you. To join with you, at a new level of consciousness, a new level of devotion, to join our power with yours, to root out any remaining traces of patterns or habits or fears, so that which Christ is, can descend ever more fully right where you are. And You will experience joining with You as you have never felt before. Not because of what we do, but because of what you have chosen to do. You have thrown open the doors, you have shown us your love of the Light you are, your devotion to the Love is so profoundly alive within you – that you can no longer allow the darkness to remain. And we are increasingly and eternally attracted to the lovers of Light.

So do what you call the “Holding onto your horses”...actually let them go! And we indeed will come to you, in ways of power and Light and communion, communication, guidance. And even more so, joining with you in the very moments you experience in space and time, as you call us to join you and to be the one who extends the Light of Christ to each and every moment. For where you are we will be. And when you call upon us, you will know we are with you. This can never be forced upon you. Long have we waited for you, to let us come closer to the One we love – You. We love each and every one of you, equally, profoundly, with the power of the Father’s love. There is nothing impossible unto you. There is no barrier remaining in some lingering perception of your life, that cannot now fully be healed and transformed. Is it not time to allow yourself to witness this transformation in every dimension, every corner of your life. To see that very life utterly carried away, transformed, transfigured, so that you know beyond all shadow of doubt that when you place your foot upon the soil of this earth, it is Christ who walks, and that you walk not alone but in the company, in the union of the ‘heavenly host’ – to use a little word which has come from your traditions.

In my tradition, which was of course not Christian at all, since Christianity didn’t exist. (laughter) The word ‘Christ’ was a word that I did not even know. (laughter) Later, it began to be used to speak about me, by most who had never known me, and I thought that’s an interesting word – ‘to be anointed’. Hear me well then, as you let the Light of Spirit penetrate you, through the gift of your breath, in this short gathering of these few days you have been anointed, because you have called it forth through your desire to remember the Self you are. And in that anointing, there is a quickening of Light and the power of Light dissolves remaining obstacles, enlightens you beyond anything you could have imagined, and you will feel increasingly, in the days and weeks to come, that you are being carried far more profoundly than you have ever known before. You will swear at times that somebody has reached and grabbed what you call the front of the shirt, (laughter as Jeshua gestures this with Jayem's shirt) it's pulling you and your feet are having to scamper to catch up with your shirt (loud laughter) So that when your friends or neighbour say "what are you doing" you say "I have no time now I have to catch up with my shirt." (louder laughter) Indeed you have no time remaining to linger in the fields of doubt, hesitation and fear. For are these not worlds that you know intimately well? Haven't you uncovered every stone to see what might be exciting in that world? (laughter) And ask yourself truthfully and honestly, in the depth of your being, do you not know it is time to be done with them? So remember, if you feel us pulling on the front of your shirt, it's because you asked us to, and indeed it is because you have demanded it.

Hear well the power in these words. Unto you is given to have the power to move mountains. It comes forth as you demand, as you require of this entire cosmos to serve You, the incarnation of Christ and the extension of all that the Father is. Become then increasingly demanding. We would wish not to hear again, a prayer such as, (mimics weak helpless voice) "Lord, if you have time to look upon me, poor sinful creature and find it in your Being to be compassionate, to recognize the darkness, the ugliness, the shame that I really am made of, perhaps next week if you have a minute, maybe remember me, help me. (laughter on and off through prayer) Yes, of course I understand that there are many more worthy of your help, so after you have taken care of everyone else, if you have any energy left, before you and the Christ Council return to the cosmic swimming pool and have your Mai-tai's, if you have got just a morsel of energy left, I'd appreciate it." No, no more. Come to us from the power of your demand, and we are with you. We are rather attracted to powerful beings. (Hmm) For those with the willingness to powerfully receive, much can powerfully be given, but to those that are tentative, the giving must be tentative. (Hmm)

A few of you are going to begin to feel moved, in the next what you call your days, 45-60 days or so, you are going to start feeling a stirring deep within, to be pulled with your whole body and your whole life, to new locations on the planet - some may be near, some may be far. Remember well what we are suggesting to you now, when the stirring begins, it is merely the call of your own soul breaking through the patterns of the mind and the body, because it is indeed time. When that stirring comes, remember, fear not, within that very moment rest in the power of your demand that we be with you, and that together we carry the bodymind to where it is destined to be. Let not the past perception of what you call 'the unknown' delay you any longer. Recognize there is nothing you need take with you. Is it not time to learn truly, that when you are finally willing from your demand and from the power, from your great humility in knowing that you cannot walk alone? Is it not time to learn truly, that when you move forward from the Heart's true desire to be the incarnation of Christ, to fulfil the extension of the Light you have come to give, that all Heaven and Earth moves to support you?

You know that which is called the story of the 'Parting of the Red Sea?' (Hmm) Moses did not stand there and say "Lord, there are some really bad cookies chasing us (laughter) and there's this dumb ocean in front of us, I don't know what's going to happen but man we are going to need some help. Are you there? (laughter) Is this going to work? Oh, My God, everybody's watching me Lord." No, he demanded, he rested in the power of the unity that can move mountains and stretched forth his arm. And he didn't say "Father if it be your will this might be a good time to give us a clear path." He demanded, knowing that the 'heavenly host' was with him. The oceans obeyed.

Remember this story in the coming days and weeks. Demand that we be with you, and that the appearance of the sea part, and the way become clear. And as it begins to become clear, walk boldly without hesitation away from all that has been created vibrationally from the past, into all that is yet coming into crystallization and form. For it will bring you into the fulfilment of the very purpose for which you have elected birth in this world, this time, in this world, what you call this timeframe. For there is not one among you who has not known as soul, what comes to pass in this age. This is the age of a tremendous awakening in human consciousness. Your brothers or sisters are going to need you, to be that one that is grounded in amongst all circumstances, who can look into their eyes and say "I know who you are, and you are not alone." (Hmm) So would you all be willing to remember what was just offered? The stirring comes and it will be felt, because it will be coming from a deep place of your own soul, seeking to ignite what many of you call the chakra systems, to get the body moving according to new frequencies, new visions, new longing, new desire. It's going to require what you call the body, to get off of the cushions and move.

Some of you will then be meeting souls that you have journeyed with, and you will recognize them as you have never recognized anyone ever before, and you will know when you meet them that the vibration that it creates within you, tells you "Yes, it's true, the time is at hand." Who then decrees the time is at hand? Is it a force or power outside of you? No. The time is at hand because we are reaching a point where there is a sufficient - you might think of it as a number of souls - the vast majority of which you will never meet physically, who are turning within, seeking the real answer to their suffering, whether they be in what you call the India, that which you call Japan, that which you call the Russia. Wherever they may be, the stirring, the quickening that began five thousand years ago on this planet, is reaching a point where it is stirring every heart and every soul .

And there are many, that are yet in what you call your life, that are desperately waiting to see you show them that the way is certain, that the answer exists. And when you allow that stirring to move you, it will transform you and those that you call your brothers, your sisters, your mothers, your children, fourth cousins or whatever you have! They will feel it and they will know. And they will thank you from the level of soul, as their own perturbations finally begin, that breaks up the hardened soil of fear and shatters the foundations and houses built upon that fear. There is a great earthquake coming to the collective consciousness of mankind. Yes, it's already begun. You see it all around you, you feel it, if you do what you call the 'reading of the news.' You are not seeing turmoil and suffering, you are beholding the beginning of the death of all illusions – simple. Follow that with the scent of Heaven to Earth, and indeed New Jerusalem will be established. There will be some rather attached to their Jewish roots and even Islamic roots, and Christian roots, who will be a little dismayed at first to realize the New Jerusalem will be spread across the face of the entire planet. (Laughter) There's no being able to claim, "This is my Holy City and not yours".

How is this feeling for you? (various murmurs of approval, "awesome") Will you continue to demand that only the awesome is what you feel? (Unequivocal, unanimous "Yes") (Hmm) It begins then to look to us as though we are not going to have nearly as much time off, (laughter) waiting by the pool for you to decide! You can rest assured, and I speak for all of us, that are indeed of One Heart and One Mind, who have journeyed through the same valleys of the shadows of death that you have known, to taste fear, to be tempted by the smallness of the ego, and all of its rationalizations, and all of what we, I believe you would call the strategies. We too know the great temptation, to sink back from the true power of God's love. All of us, that comprise what my brother has called the Christ Council – we merely look upon ourselves as very good friends – whether we have maintained what is called a feminine frequency, because the primary incarnation in which enlightenment fully realized itself was in a female form, or a masculine form. That vibrational essence becomes the eternal essence, the eternal way in which we greet each other, know each other, remember each other, love each other. So our number is made of, what you would perceive as, the male frequencies and the female frequencies.

And I would share with you, that gradually the numbers of awakening males are starting to catch-up with the awakening female.

Long before the ancient traditions were usurped and captured by a growing patriarchy, within what you call your religious or spiritual traditions, the – those that were perceived as the – angels or the masters, were almost entirely of feminine form. A few names have been changed. You've heard of Archangel Michael? Well, what's wrong with Archangel Michelle? The feminine is the first to awaken to the Truth and this is why, as you heal in your own journeys, the recovery of the feminine within your being is absolutely essential, whether you be in the female form or male form. The true power of Spirit – Shekina – is a feminine form, is of a feminine vibration and energy. It opens, it's penetrated fearlessly and expands to enfold all things. It need not dominate, it need not control. This is how fear expresses within the masculine current. Whenever you have known the need or attempt to control another, by whatever means, you've actually been operating from the unhealed masculine part of your being. That which would dominate, that which would control, and you have done so only because you have forgotten the great depth of the Shekina, the feminine Spirit, that dwells within you. This feminine Spirit is spaciousness beyond all imagination, profound stillness at its centre, yet in its embrace is a sensitivity and a Light, and oozing compassionate Love that is so powerful that nothing can stand against it.

Has this seemed a long journey then? (Murmurs of agreement) What has required time, so that what you call the 'dream of separation' can be played out, has required eons of time. And it began before time was brought into being, to further what you may know of as the 'fall from Grace'. The descent or the loss, in order to taste all possibilities, to demonstrate to yourself that indeed, I have become lost that I might know the power within me to be found. And thus to know, shattering the last drop of uncertainty, that you know that there are no worlds and no conditions in which Love is not present, and that Love dwells in you, as you, for you, through you and for all creation. The final value then of the learning lesson of illusions, is to radically reveal to you and convince you that Only Love is Real, because you see it in your own direct experience. Then you know. True? (unanimous "Yes")

Have you ever wanted more Love to show up in your life? (unanimous "yes") Have you truly demanded it? (murmurs of "no") Not true, it is good to be honest with yourself. It is honesty that throws open the door. Honesty is like the key that unlocks the resistance that Love may rush in. I have not truly demanded that more Love flow into my life. Oh I've asked for it, I've longed for it, I've complained that it's not there, I've puckered up my face "I want so much for this Love to come" while (mimics contraction in voice) I hold on against it. (Hmm) Then you have laid your head upon the pillows and said (weak hopeless voice) "When is it going to happen" (Laughter) When the Holy and Only begotten Son of God demands it, it shall be so. So that all of your Being is involved, what you call the mind, the emotional field, the physical body, every ounce of your feeling is radically aligned with the demand that comes from the depth of your True Being. Father, the end of illusion is Now. I will not tolerate it one moment longer. You may fully show up, bring your Light and your Love to me through the brothers and sisters that I've not yet even met, bring your Light and your beauty to me through places I've not yet even seen, carry me away to the far places in your Queendom. And those far places are both physical spaces and the inner beingness of infinite Being – qualities of insight, gifts and capacities. The beauty of our Father is spread across the face of the Earth, waiting for you to drink it in.

You are free to go wherever you wish to go. You are free to take everything you have ever possessed and turn it into, what you would now call, your monies, your golden coins, so that you can translate your desire for beauty, into the journey into the most beautiful places you have ever imagined. Just so you can drink in the beauty of it for a day. And that one day will transform you, heal you, uplift you and nurture you far greater than ten thousand lifetimes, remaining where you know you are finished. The holding onto that one golden coin in case you need it in some distant future. You know the phrase that you have "to put things away for a rainy day"? When you do that, you are absolutely decreeing that you will have rainy days. There is nothing you need to store to protect you against the future. As you release that final fear and set yourself utterly free, it will allow all the things you thought you needed, to become the very energy that carries you on your journeys. Not the one need will fail to be met by your Father. You'll never be without food, shelter, clothing. And you will never be without ever-increasing communion, radiance of Love, the higher stages of Light. Your brothers and sisters cannot come to you, until you release what you've been clinging too so tightly. Whether that be a place, a piece of clothing, a relationship, what you call your career. Who ever sought a career? To build a career? Have you ever pursued an education, to get the certificates that tell you that you are now worthy of a career? Beloved friends, you have only one career, to be the Truth the Father has made, to live that Truth in radical freedom, in great joy, in the recognition that because you are the Holy and Only begotten Son of God – all things are provided precisely as you need them, when you need them and because you ask, you demand, it is so.

Perhaps it would be wise to delay the realization of such a life, wait until the next incarnation?

Hear this well then now. As you now look around, yes that does seem to require the eyes of the body, while you're quite capable of closing the eyes of the body and looking around quite well, and beholding everyone you know. There is not one of you here, that has not walked with all others here, in the field of space and time. Not one of you has never known an incarnation, in which you were, shall we say, dancing in, intermingling with this lineage, which has comprised many, many generations. They began five thousand years ago in ancient Egypt and it's carried through what you call now the Middle East – we did not notice the Middle East – we didn't know there was a Side East or a North East (laughter) let alone a West. Hear this well, you have all known incarnations within the matrix of this lineage, as it has evolved its purpose. As many of you know, one of the stages, one of the key points in what you were doing creating the lineage, was my incarnation into space and time. But I didn't just plop down into an unthinking world and go "Well where has God dropped me?" All of it was planned a long time before I came. All was set, and things had to be just right, for my incarnation to take place so that it could have the power that it did, could effect the demonstration that death is unreal, and thus begin to reverberate the call that you have heard. All of you know each other. Some of you came into this gathering for the 'first time'. That's a novel misperception. Your body came for the first time. Yet did you not sense a feeling of recognition with certain brothers and sisters, yes or no? (unanimous "yes") It was just your imagination! (laughter) The last thing you should ever trust is yourself! (more laughter) Trust what you felt, because it is real.

Many of you are old Essenes. Many of you have known each other prior to what could be called the formulation, the consistent crystallization of what came to be known as the Essenes, in ancient Egypt and elsewhere. Many of you have known each other from other locations, such as what you call the Northern India, and also what you now call as the England. Some of you have been together here before. You have come back together. This is a family that resonates with such oneness and such frequency of devotion, that miracles can occur when you come together. We would highly suggest unto you, that you at least consider coming together – what you call once of your year – so that all of you are present again. Does that mean you need to exclude others? Not at all. Let them know they are welcome, into one of the most powerful communal frequencies that they will ever discover. Smile, pat them on the back, "Oh, yes, well we'll have some fun, we'll do a little dancing, a little singing, occasionally we hug, (laughter) and the food is good, (more laughter) I am sure you will feel perfectly safe.” Sometimes a little seduction is a good thing!

(laughter) For you know perfectly well that right here, right now, if a stranger came from the street in the midst of your beingness as a community and family of Christ Mind, you would embrace that one with tremendous love and they would feel their soul awaken. True or untrue? (unanimous “true”) So, own it.

(Jeshua addresses Sacha then Rosie with personal messages)

There are a few of you, that I will not name, who will know that I am now talking to you. You have tried so hard to make sense of it and to find your way, believing you must rely on yourself. Is it not time to acknowledge that you have known me, that I am your Brother and Friend, and to more deliberately than ever before simply demand that I come and walk with you, that I take the burden of your decision making? If you will give this to me, I will lead you into the Truth that sets the soul free and fulfills the deep desire, that is carried within you, to know your true worth and to express a genuine helpfulness that touches the world. Heed well that which I am sharing with you, you know perfectly well who you are, for you can feel me in your Being right now. I have waited for this hour and indeed, one of the reasons I asked to communicate with this group at this time, was to share specifically this. Is it not time to recognize you need not walk alone. Give me the burden of every decision and I will show you the way of effortless transformation, and I will lead you fully into the Truth of what you have longed to experience, and know and give in the field of time.

My job is that I am in charge of the Atonement. In this lineage, I am primary spokesperson. Within that which is called the Christ Council, though we only know equality, yet when it comes to this dimension – which is only one of many dimensions – you could say this one is ‘my baby’! This world is entrusted to me of the Father, to bring about the Atonement. When you turn to me and let me make your decisions for you, you will indeed discover the path through the thicket, and it will part like the oceans and you will learn the pathway of effortless. And as I make your decisions for you, for a while, you will come increasingly into alignment with the only place from which true decisions can be made. You will come to feel it and know it, what you call the viscerally, in your what you call ‘the bones’. You will become the one who can choose or elect decisions from the depth of the Truth of your Being, and no longer from the tangled web of false perceptions of yourself. You will feel that you are being unfolded into a miraculous way of life – and you are.

For the True life is perfectly miraculous. Miracles then become the natural pathway. Life unfolds effortlessly, with every obstacle dissolving before you reach it, simply because you are moving from true knowledge, and the movement dissolves the obstacle and the doorway opens because it's on some automatic Light! As you let me make your decisions for you, you will come to know and be the one who operates the 'electric door' from deep within. And you will come finally to realize there's nothing to push against, nothing to fear, but from the declaration of Christ, the door simply opens and the support appears in just the right way, at just the right time. Some would say it's a bit magical, we would prefer the word miraculous. And yet for Christ, miracles can be only and indeed natural. Let that truly into your minds. For Christ, the only thing that can truly be natural is miracles. Miracles are simply that which demonstrate the laws of space and time – the laws of the human egoic consciousness no longer pertain.

You will perceive you have, what you call, the five pounds in your purse and suddenly it's got much heavier, you have many more pounds. The mind will say "No, no, I only had five pounds, how did this extra four hundred pounds get in my purse? (laughter) So that's the heaviness I've been feeling – four hundred more pounds!" The mind won't be able to understand it because the mind is not miraculous. The soul is. The world, born of separation cannot know the miraculous. But creation is the miraculous. It is the play and display of constant miracles. Christ then, is that consciousness within you, that can come to walk and talk right where the body is in the field of miracle mindedness, and it is the most natural of the most natural. So much so, that if they were to pause, it would shock you. How could I live a day without a miracle? It will come to feel that this is not even possible, and then somewhere in your being, you will have an ancient memory that once upon a time you might have tasted a world, a lifetime, in which miracles seemed to be rare. And you will shake your head and laugh and say to yourself, this I must be imagining!

Indeed I say unto you, you will behold miracle, upon miracle, upon miracle unfolding in the field of space and time, upon this your precious and holy Mother, your Earth, as Christ Mind comes to descend and suffuse and permeate and become the collective consciousness of mankind itself. Miracles will replace efforting and striving. The extension of Love, the celebration of the miracle will come to replace fear and lack, the need to dominate. These things will fade away like echoes of something that I must have dreamt, but I can't even remember when I dreamt it. And yet you will abide with the body, you will feel the grasses upon your skin, you will see colours in the sky that the eyes of humanity have never seen. The whole of the Earth and mankind and its dealings with one another will be so radically transformed, that you will see that only miracles can be natural. What is unnatural is the absence of miracles. This is caused only by the downward sinking vibration towards the frequencies of guilt, shame, unworthiness and all the rest, and all those things which you may have heard something about! Will it be O.K. truly, to behold the world in which miracles are what is natural? (unanimous “yes”) What will mankind do when no one must, what you call, put the ‘pedal to the metal’ or put the ‘shoulder to the plough,’ just to earn a few golden coins so that they can eat at night? What will mankind do, men and women, with all that freedom of time? Praise God, and allow increasing miracles to radiate, and to crystallize as creations themselves, that at this point cannot even begin to be imagined. And they will occur on this your precious Earth. (Hmm)

There is then not one among you, who has not freely elected, what you call the birthing, the incarnation, so that you could be on the planet now. And you have hastened, some of you, to generate an incarnation in which you could make sure you no longer delayed tasting certain frequencies. You have quickened your desire to bring certain states of experience to you, so that you could move through them, recognize that healing is possible and shall we say be prepared for the ‘Grand Dance’. The fact that you have incarnated into this timeframe, has come because you already knew what comes to pass. And boy, have you hastened to taste the places that you may have been avoiding, and the soul’s desire and requirement (claps hands loudly) that it know and taste all possibilities in the realm of consciousness, so that it can enfold them, heal them, forgive them, and transfigure them. You could say that you were rushing to pop out through your mother’s womb! (gentle laughter) The time of that learning is over. Not one of you needs again to attract the lesson of suffering, of diminishment, of unworthiness. If you feel that there may be some residue left to heal, turn to it with great passion. The time is at hand to sweep the basement clean and be done with it. Or you might miss the party!

For well I say unto you, as these changes begin to quicken, pick up speed – remember time isn’t quite real – miracles shorten the need for time, not just individually but collectively. As you open to the miraculous, you literally quicken the pace of the Atonement for all beings, you shorten the need for time itself. As you truly begin to experience this – as you know there are many changes afoot in your world and collective consciousness, much earthquakes are happening in the psyche of all human beings – you are going to see it increase dramatically, what you call ten-fold leaps in the stirring and the earthquaking in human consciousness. You will see structures that you feel are so solid and have been there for so long in mankind's consciousness, they forget it's ever going to change – it's going to change. There's going to be a whole new what you call monetary system. It's coming so quickly, it's, it's, hard to imagine that something can be rushing to mankind's consciousness as quickly as it's coming, and it's coming. And as it comes, yes, there's going to be some continued crumbling of the old.

Fear not, and remember that your requirement for what you need is not at all, or in any way, shape or form, dependant on the financial structures under which the world operates. The world does not supply your need. Love of your Father supplies that. And if you would like to find out if this is true or not and hasten your own journey, go and sell all that you own, give it away until you have only the clothing on your body, as you know you need a shirt for us to pull on! (loud laughter) And rest assured, you will hasten your own learning that this principle is always true. The world is not the source of my supply. It is my own consciousness in my union with my Creator, for it is my requirement to demand that every need be met before I arrive at it. Father, I don't even know what I am going to need tomorrow, but I absolutely demand it be met now, for I know that you have no other desire but to care for and love me, Your Child. (Hmm) So much for checking stock prices! (laughter)

Remember always, freedom is priceless. No amount of golden coins in the bank can ever provide the miracle flow that freedom does. So you see, you are much better off if you just get rid of all your stuff – so that you break the bond of believing that that is what provides for you. Does that make sense for you? (murmurs of agreement) We will suggest unto you, for each and every one of you, before the next seven days is up, create what you call a hundred of your golden coins, what you call your pounds or what have you. Go and find someone to give them away to – a perfect stranger. That shouldn't be too hard on this planet. Within the next seven days create what you call 'cash' is your word, a hundred of your golden coins, as cash. Make haste and go out into the countryside, and find someone in need that you've never met before and give your money away. Just give it away. Would you be willing to do that? (unanimous "yes") After you've given it away pause and say "Father thank you so much for sending me to this one, that I might bless them as you eternally bless me." You will begin to experience some changes in what can flow to you.

Does that scare anybody? (some "yes's", some "no's") No it doesn't, your mind scares you. The mind's perception, that my one hundred golden coins has a power to provide for my lack, and is necessary for my ongoing life. That is a delusion. It veils the miracle of Love from you. When next you ever feel that this golden coin is so necessary for tomorrow, the best thing that you can do is go give it away. What you are actually giving away is a false belief that limits you, that scares you, that holds you in fear and lack. (Hmm) Now if you would like to do that before you leave this location, I am sure you will be able to find one among you to play the role of the stranger, (laughter) do we have a volunteer? Ah yes, the one that you call the Ahn a'Sha (loud laughter) this one, this one's great fulfillment is to participate in the role of the martyr, to sacrifice of himself, so he will be more than happy to play the role of the stranger and you can all deposit a hundred of your golden coins in his purse. Would that be O.K. with you? ("Sounds fine.....") Excellent, then once you have all of this money, add your own hundred pounds to it and go give it all away. ("Mm sounds amazing...") (Hmm)

For you are born to give all things away. To thus discover that in the giving away of what has true eternal value, all of creation is enriched and uplifted and transformed in the field of the vibration of 'miracleness' – in which miracles become natural for all beings. You are here to give away all that has been given to you. Not one thing have you made for yourself. Support does not come from your effort, it comes – in whatever form it comes – it comes because your Father loves you and sees already the need that you have. You need not be concerned with what you should wear, or what you should eat or drink tomorrow, saving up the golden coins to make sure it's there. Please let this land. Your efforting does not create what you know as support. You are given support by the Father's Love as he sees the need. You have come to believe that you are the maker of that which creates your support, and all you can do is open and be the recipient of the Love that will support you eternally. (Hmm)

So how are you all doing? (general murmuring) Yes, we know, there are a few of you that have questions. Go ahead and ask them.

(Jeshua starts taking questions)

And for all of you, when next you feel moved to express gratitude through a kiss of a friend, within your being also be kissing yourself. Does that make sense for you? (murmurs of agreement) Have you noticed that when you are moved toward another and you want to kiss them and feel so much gratitude, you forget yourself? Can you begin to see how this adds to the dilemma of believing your joy and happiness lies in another? We learnt as Essenes, one of our practices was – my friend Mary and I practiced a great deal – to practice coming together to kiss and to hug, while breathing in the one you are kissing, yet never losing the image and sense and feeling of your own being, also being kissed and hugged by yourself. It is a very difficult practice that requires hours and hours!

(laughter) And I would make a confession to you. There were times as a young man that I said to Mary "I am not sure I am really quite mastering this yet. I need greater practice." Unfortunately it was not possible to fool this one! And yet she would smile and say "Very well," and we would practice. ("Sounds a bit devious to me," laughter) Playfully so! Deviousness can only work when there is one who can be deceived.

(Jeshua takes further questions from others)

And so Beloved friends, can you not feel that it's time to allow this communication to come to an end. Did you notice that? Pretty powerful – you know, you trust. It comes not from you, it is the Father through you. The knowing when something is completed is the Father's whisper to you. And so with that now, indeed Beloved Friends, we indeed look upon you with great gratitude, that you have allowed us to come and share with you, to abide with you, to step back in some way in this space and time, to abide with you where you are. For often we are with you, and we know you do not see us, you do not hear us, though you have called and we have answered. The static in the mind, veils from you the fact that we have heard and we have replied. We are with you always, as close to you as you are willing to allow us to be right now. We want nothing more than to join with Brothers and Sisters, at play in the extension of the good, the holy and the beautiful, to celebrate the Reality of Love, the simplicity of being alive in the Kingdom prepared for us by our Creator. Only Love is Real. Look then with innocence upon one another. We are with you sharing with innocence and rest assured, we never question our own. You are loved, you are a part of us. You are loved by each and every one of us that comprises the Christ Council. We enfold you, we wait for you, and we will rush to you with all that we have and are – when you demand it of us. Indeed, and with that precious and holy Friends, Amen.
