

PIERCING THE MISPERCEPTION MEANS YIELDING TO WHAT'S BEHIND THE MISPERCEPTION

Now, when I said that you're not to rise above the world, but pierce the misperception, that could have sounded aggressive to you. But the only way to pierce the misperception is by yielding to what is behind it. It's like YIELDING THROUGH THE MISPERCEPTION, sinking through it BY NOT VALIDATING THE MISPERCEPTION, sinking through it by means of the humble desire to see the Presence of God that has to be there, because there literally is nothing else present! And now that is clearer to you, giving you a means to practice this with more trust and I will even say, with more anticipation.

Wherever you are, whatever you're experiencing, BE PRESENT WITH IT....not judging it and standing apart from it — above it, superior to it. Be present with it. Sink into it, knowing that you're not sinking into the current definition you're holding of it, but that you are sinking into the Presence of God that is what is there that you have been blinded to, but which it is your Birthright to be experiencing, and therefore, awaits your simple acceptance of the fact that the illusion is an illusion, that your current beliefs are not true and have no substance or structural integrity to hold themselves together and successfully blind you. Therefore, they can collapse instantaneously and will collapse instantaneously.

Bearing false witness is when you witness to your definitions, your beliefs, your confidences. It's when you bear witness to mutual agreements that you have made with each other, but not with God. It's that simple.

Now I am present with and available to every single one of you, everyone at every moment. And so it is my intent in being with groups of people like this to make this fact known and by Paul's presence and demeanor also convey the fact that my being available doesn't require of anyone any special talent, because Paul is about as regular as anyone else on this planet and has no "special" talent in order to hear me. Does that clarify that for you?

For those of you who are students of A Course In Miracles, I will take this opportunity to point out that my time spent with Helen Schucman was also not a special instance. And although there have been some expressions of the fact, or the idea—not the fact—the idea that everyone else can't expect the same sort of relationship with me or with Guidance that she experienced, is untrue. It is an attempt to elevate her, and to elevate the Course into a false position of religious respect, whether it is stated that way or not.
